

Why don't politicians listen?

Because they know how the system works.

They can get elected even when most people in their riding vote against them. Their party can win a majority of seats even when the majority voted for other parties.

So don't blame them – blame the system.

Ask your candidates today: don't Canadians deserve a fair voting system?

(over)

Why don't politicians listen?

Because they know how the system works.

They can get elected even when most people in their riding vote against them. Their party can win a majority of seats even when the majority voted for other parties.

So don't blame them – blame the system.

Ask your candidates today: don't Canadians deserve a fair voting system?

(over)

